Sponsoring SotM 2026 in Paris

Founded in 2004, the OpenStreetMap (OSM) project has revolutionized the geodata market. OpenStreetMap offers world-wide, highly detailed, and current geodata at zero cost and under an open license. OSM's data is collected by hundreds of thousands of volunteers around the world, and their number is rising. Popular sites use OpenStreetMap, as do countless hobbyists, hackers, and cartographers.

OpenStreetMap powers everything from efficient navigation and location search to beautiful special interest maps and spectacular games; it is used in humanitarian efforts and by emergency services. The freely available data is a catalyst for innovation in Open Source software, and software written for OpenStreetMap is among the finest in the fields of geo editing, map rendering, and navigation.

The French OpenStreetMap association and the State of the Map organization team of the OpenStreetMap Foundation organize the State of the Map Conference (SotM), held 28-30 August 2026 in Paris, France. Sponsors are an integral part of the conference. Don't miss this opportunity to present your organization to thought leaders and community activists from around the world. We highly value your contributions and will make sure they will be recognized!

Participants and focus

The conference addresses OSM mappers and community activists, Open Source developers, researchers from universities and academic institutions, designers and cartographers, as well as GIS professionals from private and public institutions. The conference will offer a common ground to people from various backgrounds and disciplines where they can meet and exchange knowledge, experiences, plans and ideas on the development, use and improvement of OSM.

The SotM conference in Paris brings together the brightest and most active members of the OpenStreetMap surveying and development community for an intense exchange of results and ideas that strengthens the project and ensures its continued success.

We expect between 550 and 650 participants from all over the world in Paris. As in past years, SotM 2026 will held in a hybrid format which increases the accessibility of the conference even more.

We have different sponsor packages available, depending on the amount you would wish to support us with. All sponsors will be listed on our homepage and on the conference program.
